Presentation

Nikita Gervasoni CREATION is the fruit of several years' professional experience in marketing and communication. But also, and above all, the desire to help companies with their business development projects in France and abroad. After specializing in multicultural and industrial marketing communication, I decided to become a freelance communication and translation specialist, offering my skills to companies with occasional copywriting, translation and design needs in Grasse, Cannes, Nice and the surrounding area.

The multicultural aspect of my profile will bring you an original and innovative vision. I am committed to providing you personalized services, rigorous follow-up of the projects you entrust to me, and constant adaptation to your needs and market.

Values

INDEPENDANCE

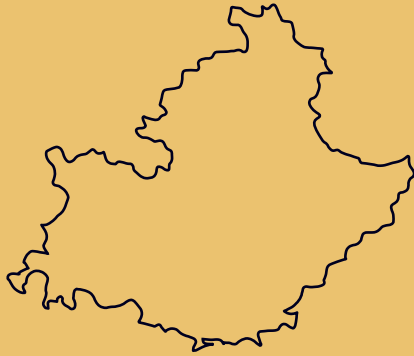

Independence allows me to remain innovative, creative and reactive. It also means being able to provide you with all the original source documents for the projects you entrust to me, so that you're free to use them as you wish.

RESPECT

Listening and understanding your needs;
Respecting your resources and deadlines;
Discretion about all the information you share;
Ethical and transparent two-way communication, that's what reflects my notion of respect.

COLLABORATION

We'll co-create solutions adapted to your specific needs to ensure that the results faithfully reflect your expectations and vision, and we'll carry out your projects hand in hand so that you achieve your goals efficiently.
